Accessibility

Out of Service
 If Trolley is out of service regular bus will run route.

Weather
 Remember, we are affected by weather and heavy traffic too, and we may occasionally experience unavoidable delays. If severe weather causes us to cancel service for any portion of the service day, we will notify the public through radio and television announcements. Whenever you can, try to make alternative travel plans during predicted severe weather. In case of icy road conditions, we may implement snow routes.

Ann St. and Broadway CAPITAL CITY MUSEUM

c. 1880, 325 Ann St. (former site of Gayle Drug Store)
Explore more than 200 years of politics, architecture, enterprise, misbehavior, and everyday life in Frankfort. Mon-Sat 8-4 Closed Sun.

Frankfort Visitor Center – Capital Ave. & Second St. FRANKFORT VISITOR CENTER

c. 1890, 100 Capital Ave.
This Queen-Anne building is locally known as the "Gooch House" for George and Sarah Gooch who purchased it in 1919. For a time it served as the "Green Hedges Tourist Home" and was once the home of Rebecca Gooch, co-founder of the Rebecca-Ruth Candy Company. The City of Frankfort purchased the dwelling for $80,000 in 1980 and converted the structure into the present tourism center. Mon-Fri 8-5, Sat 10-2, Closed Sun.

Kentucky State Capitol & Governors' Mansion KENTUCKY STATE CAPITOL

Completed in 1910, the Capitol building features 70 Ionic columns, sculptures of Kentucky dignitaries and decorative murals. It is one of the most impressive capitols in the nation. The 212 feet high dome is based on the tomb of Napoleon in Paris. Interior marble staircases leading to the legislative chambers on the third floor are fashioned after the Opera House in Paris. The ornate State Reception Room on the second floor is copied after the Palace at Versailles. Mon-Fri 8-4 Closed Sat, Sun.

FLORAL CLOCK

The architect for the 100 ton clock was the Frankfort firm of Oberwarth & Livingston. The minute hand is 20 feet long and weighs 530 pounds. The hour hand is 15 feet long and weighs 420 pounds. The hands move every 60 seconds. It was dedicated in 1961.

CAPITOL ANNEX

The Capitol Annex was completed at a cost of $6 million and dedicated October 8, 1952.

GOVERNORS' MANSION

Built in 1914, the mansion keeps with the French influence of the nearby Capitol, designed on a plan inspired by Marie Antoinette's summer villa, the Petit Trianon at Versailles, France. Tue, Wed, Thu, 9, 9:30, 10, 10:30 Must call ahead on the day.

Rebecca Ruth Candy Tours

Friends Ruth Hanly and Rebecca Gooch founded Rebecca-Ruth Candy in 1919. In 1929 Gooch sold her half of the business to Ruth Hanly Booe. Booe is credited as the inventor of the "bourbon ball" in 1938, now a world famous confection. Mon-Sat 10-6.

State Arsenal

The Arsenal was designed by architect Nathaniel Cook and built in 1850 to house weapons and equipment for the Kentucky militia. It continued in service with the Kentucky National Guard and other state agencies until a renovation in 1973-74 that made it into the home of the Kentucky Military Museum, a joint operation of the Kentucky Department of Military Affairs and the Kentucky Historical Society. Sat only 10-5. Visitors must start tour at the Thomas D. Clark Center for Kentucky History.

Frankfort Cemetery

The cemetery, often called "The Westminster Abbey of Kentucky" for its many notable figures buried here, was incorporated in 1844, becoming the second cemetery to incorporate in the United States. Among those buried here are pioneer-explorer Daniel and wife Rebecca Boone, Vice President Richard M. Johnson, local artist Paul Sawyier, poet Theodore O'Hara and numerous Kentucky governors and politicians. 7 am – dark.

Cabinet for Human Resources Bldg

Built near the site of Kentucky's Feeble Minded Institute, this building contains the state Office of Vital Statistics archiving the births, marriages, and deaths throughout the state, making it an invaluable resource for genealogical projects.

Commonwealth Credit Union

CCU is a not-for-profit financial institution that is a leader in the financial service industry.

OLD GOVERNORS' MANSION

Home to 33 Kentucky governors from 1798 to 1914, this structure is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and notable for seven U. S. Presidents who visited here. In 2009 the Old Mansion was renovated by professional decorators to house visiting dignitaries doing business with the Kentucky government. Call 502-564-5500 for tour information.

STATE OFFICE BUILDING

This Art Deco building designed by Ernst Vern Johnson was completed in 1941. The building recently completed a $47 million renovation and now houses the Cabinet for Environmental and Public Protection. The massive stone foundation surrounding the building is all that remains of the state penitentiary that formerly occupied the site.

Kentucky Department of Revenue – High St.

Department of Transportation Bldg

This seven-story building cost $113 million dollars when completed in late 2003. Winner of an American Institute of Architects Design Award in 2005, the sloping roof is meant to convey a sense of motion. The floor is polished limestone. Gracing the lobby is a two-story glass map of Kentucky showing highways, rivers, and county lines. Two outdoor artwork sculptures include Tony Higdon and Erika Strecker's Nexus and Garry Bibb's Now Get.

Capital Plaza Tower

Built in 1971 the $49 million Capital Plaza features shops and offices and the Capital Hotel. The Plaza boasts a 28-story tower with state government offices and beautiful fountains throughout.

Ann and Broadway CAPITAL CITY MUSEUM

previously described in this brochure.

Liberty Hall Historic Site LIBERTY HALL SITE

c.1796, 218 Wilkinson St.
This Georgian-style house served as the home of eminent statesman U. S. Senator John Brown, one of the two first US Senators to represent Kentucky after it joined the Union in 1792. President James Monroe dined here with aides Zachary Taylor and Andrew Jackson in 1819. Lafayette and Aaron Burr also visited here. The first Sunday School west of the Allegheny Mountains was started in the Liberty Hall gardens by Margaretta Brown and her friend Elizabeth Love. Tue-Sat 10-4:30.

Orlando Brown House

c. 1835, 218 Wilkinson St.
This Greek Revival house was built from plans designed by Gideon Shryock, for the second son of Senator John Brown. It is the only known residence designed by Shryock. It remained in the Brown family until it was bequeathed to the National Society of Colonial Dames. It contains much of the original furnishings, including paintings by Robert Burns Wilson. Shryock designed the Old Capitol and the Franklin County Courthouse here in Frankfort. Tue-Sat 10-4:30.

Broadway and St. Clair OLD STATE CAPITOL

c. 1827-30, Broadway & Lewis St.
Built over the ashes of two earlier Capitols, this Greek-Revival building was the first public work of Gideon Shryock. The self-supporting circular staircase under the temple-like dome stands entirely independent of the rest of the structure. William Goebel, Kentucky's "martyr governor," was shot by an assassin from the State Office building next door. His statue stands on the grounds, and a brass plate in the brick walkway marks the spot where he fell. Wed 10-4, Thu 10-8, Fri 10-5, Sat 10-5, Closed Sun, Mon, Tue
